Wrapping Up: Parent Letter

AMERICAN HUMANE
FIRST TO SERVE®

Dear Family,

Learning about the world's animals is routinely a big hit with students, and this year has been no exception.

Along with learning about a variety of animals, the places they live, and the things some animals do, your child has learned the importance of treating all animals with respect and kindness.

As we wrap up our animal studies, I encourage you to continue to nurture your child's compassion for the welfare of animals. Check out the suggestions below. The world's animals need us, and we need them, too!

Thank you!
